Cheap Reading for Farmers.

We have made arrangements by which we are enabled to offer The Non-West Farmer in conjunction with our own paper at a greatly reduced rate. THE NOR' WEST FARMER, which was established in 1882, is still the only agricultural paper printed between Lake Superior and the Pacific Coast, having in that vast territory a much larger circulation than all other agricultural publications combined

It is an illustrated paper, devoted to Live Stock, Dairying, Veterinary, Grain Growing, Pout-try, Forestry, Gardening and every other detail of Northwest Farming, written by practical, experi-enced men of long residence here, and is specially adapted to the conditions of this region, to the farming of which it is the only paper in Canada exclusively devoted. Complete and accurate market reports are among its special features.

It is a journal that should be read by every man cultivating an acre of land, or owning a domes-tic animal in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories. As its name implies, it is edited especially to meet the requirements of the Great Fertile Belt of the Northwest. It is alike valuable to the Farmer, Bancher, Dairyman or Gardener.

The Moose Jaw Times (subscription $1.50 a year) and The Non-West Farmer (subscription $1 a year) will be sent to any address, for one year, on receipt of $2.00, a saving of 50 cts., being thus effected on the price of two papers.

Grip this week has an excellent car which the G.O.M. stands with slaves rolled up over the "biceps of majority." A handkerchief entitled "labor vote" is tied over his right knee and the gingerbread bruise shows of on his eye. His taxe is at hand and he stands before a formidable tree called "The Irish Question." On the trans hangs a placard cautioning all and sundry against "cutting down trees on this estate." Several smaller trees "landlordizm," "established church etc. make up the background. Glad-stone says "I am not so atrong as I had heped and expected to be, but th job's got to be done somehow."

Ottawa Citizen:-Messrs Fax a Cameron appeared before an Ottawa audience last night. The Opera House was packed to the doors.

Where two first class artists are o the stage and both please so well, it is a very difficult thing ineed to speak of their performances, and do ample justito both. Their claims seem to 1 pretty equally divided, one part of the audience preferring Mr. Cameron, the other Mr. Fax; for our part we preferred both. Taking Mr. Cameror first, we would say that the three reci tations given by this gentleman shewe could not be surpassed by any on this continent. They were the following:—
"A Boy's Essay on Necks" "The Miser's fate," and "Trouble in the Amen Miser's fate, and "Frounce in our opinion Cornea, "the second being in our opinion better given than it was by Mrs better given than it was by Mrs Scott-Siddons. Among thesongs given better given than it was on any and so the solidons. Among the songs given by Mr Cameron, particular mention should be made of "Mother England's Sons," which was loudly encored, as indeed was the case with every song sung by either gentleman that night. In reference to Mr. James Fax, we would say that this was his fifth appearance in Ottawa, and, it is safe to say that the never was as sincerely appreciated nor aswamply applauded as he was last night. As a comic pure and simple Jas. Fax is a host in himself. His songs were entirely new. We would mention in particular the following as excellent hits: "You can't get 'em," "Public and Private," and what was his longest and heaviest song, "The Seven Ages." His conne song, "The Seven Ages." His conne acting was unapproschable. The de, partments in which the two men shine are different. Mr. Cameron in the dramatic can't be heaten as we have al-ready said, while Mr. Fax's forte is the
